FEDERAL ENERGY
REGULATORY COMMISSION

Dear Ms. Salas,

CP06-54-000

This letter is in reference to Broadwater Liquid Natural Gas (LNG) Terminal proposal set for the middle of the Long Island Sound in New York.

I must say I am very upset about this proposal, I feel this is too costly. The risk for the people of the area and the environment is far too costly. You cannot say that the proposed private security will not disrupt the peaceful and tranquil waters of the Long Island Sound. I have read the reports and feel this Gas terminal is not worth the disturbance it will cause to our beautiful area. I have lived here all my life and I live here for the great environment and beauty of the Long Island Sound. I raise my family here, and I only wish that they can live here in safety knowing that they are not in danger with a gas terminal only miles offshore.

I am also disturbed by the fact that this facility will limit the public access to the Long Island Sound. I live on Long Island and use the Long Island Sound each season. We love this area and feel strongly about preserving this beautiful area for everyone now and the future generations. Let us not forget the mistakes of the past with our environment and how long it would take the land to recover from an accident or disaster, if one was to occur. Let alone, an accident or disaster that could cost the lives of people working there or living nearby.

I hope this letter will help you to think over the decision to create this Natural Gas terminal in the Long Island Sound. I feel our Long Island Sound needs to be protected from this kind of intrusion. It is not worth the danger for the citizens or the environment.

Sincerely,

Ginette Greco
